MEET OUR NEW INSTRUCTOR: CORY BUFKIN

Cory Bufkin is a classically trained ballet dancer and has spent the last 16 years intensely studying and perfecting her craft. She began her career as a company member of Central West Ballet in Modesto, California and continued her education with various other ballet schools such as American Ballet Theater. After graduating high school, she lived in New York while attending the New School University and performed with the Joffrey Ballet School. The Joffrey Ballet School was where she was first introduced to mat Pilates. Eventually moving to Orange County, Cory performed with Inland Pacific Ballet as well as Ballet Pacifica. She graduated from the University of California Irvine and now holds her BFA in Dance/Performance. At UC Irvine Cory studied Pilates under Diane Diefenderfer. She continued her education and received her certification through Diane's studio, Studio du Corps. Cory is excited about sharing her knowledge of dance and Pilates as a Body Awareness Pilates Instructor.
